When burned-out healthcare professionals want to ditch the bedside and become their own bosses, they rely on Sue Denis, the Million-Dollar Homecare Agency Mentor, to show them the way. Founder of Homecare Bosses United, Sue is a former frustrated nurse turned seven-figure homecare agency owner, coach and in-demand speaker.

Known as the Homecare Startup and Growth Expert to her clients, Sue has coached over 200 individuals, many of whom had no prior business or healthcare experience, into their own profitable non-medical homecare agencies. Her reach online goes even further than that – she has inspired over 10,000 aspiring and seasoned homecare agency owners to successfully pivot into agency ownership.

See, Sue's passion for helping others didn't disappear when she retired from nursing. Her signature Turnkey Homecare Agency Program gives clients the tools and support they need to start and run a profitable homecare business. And after generating a million dollars in revenue in just 4 years with her own agency, you can bet she knows a thing or 2 about helping new agencies thrive.

Now Sue shares her expertise with emerging homecare bosses so they can get more clients, recession-proof their agencies and achieve long-term financial success.

While Sue has a laundry list of notable achievements, she is most proud of being a wife to Enock Denis, a mom to Donell Denis, of earning a Master's Degree in Nursing Education, launching her own homecare agency, Seeds Home Care, earning the Two Comma Club award, and the Circle Of Seven award.

Whether you're a tired nurse searching for a way out, an aspiring business owner, or a seasoned homecare agency owner, Sue Denis has the expertise to get you from over it to owning it. Visit [\[LINK\]](#) to find out more.
