

Sharon M. Addison
BSN, RN, BCC

Sharon Addison, RN is a sought after speaker and business strategist. She supports her clients with systems and strategies to optimize their businesses to multi-six figures and beyond.

Known as RN2CEO coach, she supports high achieving nurses who seek freedom and flexibility, create an extraordinary and prosperous business around their lifestyle.

Supporting causes that will create life changing impact, she volunteers on medical missions in the Caribbean and supports clean water projects in Ghana West Africa.

Sharon Addison is also a Board Certified Coach and holds a Honorary Doctorate of Divinity and is looking forward to completing her MBA in Health Care Management.

Sharon Addison is the founder of the Caribbean and Global Women of Power Summit, an annual live event that empowers and unite women across the world. She is also the founder of Your Awesome Power Within Academy® which offers personal and professional development programs and resources.

She is a graduate of the prestigious Connecticut School of Broadcasting with certifications in radio and television production.